Why the 10 Commandments matter in our daily lives.

From The Rabbi

On Thursday, April 8, I attended a Community Conversation, via Zoom, that was convened by New York State Senator John C. Liu to discuss the issue of anti-Asian Hate that has become a plague within our country. As a leader within our community, together with other religious and civic leaders, I was invited to make a brief statement.

I began my remarks by referring to the Biblical idea that every human being is created in the image of G-d and I quoted from the Book of Leviticus:

You shall not hate your brother in your heart.
You shall not take vengeance or bear a grudge against your fellow countrymen
You shall love your fellow as yourself.

I shared that the Jewish interpretation of the Golden Rule is to live by the imperative:

That which is hateful to you,
Do not do unto your fellow human being.

Then, I recognized that it is not that hard to talk the talk, but if talk does not evolve into action then the talk is meaningless. As part of this Community Conversation, I then made the following statement:

I live in an Asian neighborhood and I do not know my neighbors.

I then made a public pledge to mount an effort to build bridges between the members of the local Jewish community and members of the local Asian community. I pledged to bring members of our neighborhood together to get to know one another and to identify common ground that we share.

Immediately after the meeting I called my friend Reverend Lindsay Lunnum of the Zion Episcopal Church who also attended the meeting and also made a statement. As we spoke, I decided to alter my pledge from simply bringing members of the Jewish and the Asian communities together, to bringing the Asian and non-Asian members of our community within the context of our interfaith network of community clergy. Before our phone conversation was over, Reverend Lindsay and I set a date and time for a meeting of our local Asian and non-Asian clergy to get together for the purpose of getting to know one another as the first step of enabling our local clergy to embrace the goal of building bridges between the Asian and non-Asian members of our community.

On Tuesday, April 27 we had our first meeting and we concluded that meeting by setting the next meeting for Tuesday, May 11. At our first meeting 11 members of our local clergy attended and we have identified another 10 members of local clergy to whom we are reaching out to join us at the next meeting.

I consider it an honor and a privilege to be part of this process and I am looking forward to the day when there will be a social gathering of our Asian and non-Asian neighbors in which we will begin to get to know one another and rejoice in beauty of friendship and shared aspirations.

To quote the wisdom of Rabbi Nachman of Bratislav:

The whole world is a narrow bridge,
But the essence is not to be afraid.

Let us not be afraid of crossing the bridges that divide us. Let us have the courage to walk the walk that will help us to discover the unknown and to become part of the process that will bring us together with our neighbors.

Rabbi Gordon Yaffe

Presidential Matters

by Steve Aronowitz

Good news is always welcome...so I begin with information we have all been awaiting...it sounds like the time may not be too far off that we will be able to return to some sense of normalcy. If you're anything like me, I know you would much rather be sitting near your family and friends in the synagogue.

Based on declining COVID – 19 infection numbers and increasing vaccination numbers, we are in the final planning stages for a gradual resumption of in-person services. The current plan, yet to be officially announced, is to start in late May. A letter – under separate cover – with full details of the re-opening will be sent to members sometime in the first week of May.

We will continue to make services available online. This is our opportunity to continue to make services available to those who choose not to attend in-person, as well as distant members who might not be able to make it to services in person but still want to participate.

Our time away has been too long; that is certain. However, upon reflection, consider how we grew as a Jewish community. Participation in services was exceptional, virtual programming kept us together and we continued our traditions with a Zoom Passover Seder, a Food Drive, Shabbat Dinners, and stimulating, relevant, and spiritual Educational Programs. Somehow, the Rabbi and Cantor kept us together through their warm, friendly, and passionate concern for each of us. Along with strong congregational leaders, they created experiences that clearly rose above any perceived limitations. We laughed. We smiled. Sometimes, we cried. Through it all – well over one year – we held together and the result is a stronger congregation.

The credit is widespread as it would have to be in order to pull off this accomplishment!

Once again, we earned our reputation as the leading center of Judaism in northeast Queens. And, most importantly, once again we will soon greet each other in person.

More developing news... consolidation talks with Lake Success continue with significant progress being made. A full report to the general membership will be presented at a virtual General Membership meeting on Monday, June 7th. Prior to that date, we will be holding focus group meetings to present updated information. Previous focus group meetings helped the committee in formulating our position on key issues. Your input is vital!!

If you would like to participate in a focus group meeting, please notify Audi at the synagogue office.

You will also be receiving a letter under separate cover detailing the election process of trustees and officers for the 2021 – 2022 year. The meeting on June 7 will also provide nominated individuals the opportunity to introduce themselves.

Vice President of Membership

by Karen Popowsky

This will be my last column as the VP of Membership. I am stepping down because after 4 years in this position, I believe it is time for another person to bring their perspective to this position. My mission has always been to strengthen our membership by bringing people together and I hope I have done that.

All the committees I have served on at Congregation L'Dor V'Dor have strengthened my commitment to the synagogue and particularly to Membership. None of the committees or events that I have participated in over the many years I have been a member at Congregation L'Dor V'Dor could have succeeded if not for the participation of other members of the synagogue. Serving first as a member of the Membership Committee and then as its chairman has been an honor. Among the events our vibrant committee has presented have been annual Membership Shabbats, American Bandstand Dance Party, Celebrate 70 Anniversary Dance Party and delivery of Shabbat Bags. We have connected with members sheltering in place through phone calls during COVID and more.

I would like to thank the current and past members of the Membership Committee who have served alongside me:

Hayim Biton, Eileen Baker, Jerelyn Cohen
Elaine Fleischman, Marjorie Goldstein
Lenny Goldstein, Joan Kase-Riger, Nadine Rose,
Mindy Rosenfeld, Paul Sacker, Harriet Spilkevitz
Debbie Stoll, Rob Stoll, Nina Wolf and Carrie Yaffe

Their dedication to this committee has been exemplary and nothing could have happened without each of them. I invite and encourage YOU, our dedicated and loyal members of Congregation L'Dor V'Dor to join the Membership Committee. It's a great way to meet new people and know that you make a difference in the livelihood of our synagogue family. You won't see my column after this issue of Temple Talk, but you will continue to see me on ZOOM and in person sometime soon.

L'Hitraot!

From The Cantor

After a long 14 months away, there's been a lot of talk lately about the possibility of re-opening our synagogue! While details are sketchy at press time, it's becoming clear that we're getting closer to a gradual return to normalcy. I can't wait to see many of you in-person once again!

However, I'll be the first to admit that I kind of liked the convenience of Zoom services. For one thing, my commute decreased from 90+ minutes to about 12 seconds. But seriously, I've truly enjoyed my increased interaction with the community. I used to be at the synagogue once or twice a week. Now, I participate every day!

And it seems I'm not the only one. Many of you have re-discovered the joy of synagogue services, classes, and programs from the comfort of your family room or kitchen – without the need to dress up, find a parking space, or get there early in order to secure a good seat. Congregation L'Dor V'Dor hasn't missed a beat, and to say the least, we are thriving online!

However, perhaps we've become TOO comfortable over the past 14 months. Do you even remember what life was like before Zoom? As we begin to think about our gradual transition back to our building, it's a good time to re-acquaint ourselves with the realities of "real life". I'd like to offer the following important reminders as a (SATIRICAL) public service to our community:

1. Shoes and pants are no longer optional. Fuzzy slippers are discouraged as well. You can now be seen from head to toe, so please dress accordingly.
2. We can no longer mute you if you're are talking too loudly to the person next to you. Please take your conversation outside.
3. We ask that you do not bring your pet to services anymore. Thank you.
4. Please eat breakfast and/or drink coffee BEFORE attending services.
5. We are literally standing right next to you. No need to shout in order to be heard.
6. If you find yourself nodding off during the service, there is no way to turn your camera off. We will see you, and wish you sweet dreams.
7. Likewise, when you make comments about the service, the rabbi and cantor, the last Board Meeting, how another member is dressed, etc., remember that you are NOT muted and all can hear you.
8. As there are no mirrors in the sanctuary, you will not be able to see yourself at all times as you could on Zoom. Don't worry. We see you, and you look great.
9. Your Zoom background does not follow you to the sanctuary. You can no longer pretend to join us for services while on the beach in Jamaica.
10. Please note: "Zooming" at home is perfectly acceptable. "Zooming" on the way to services will probably get you pulled over.

I hope that these tips help you ease back into "the real world" safely and comfortably.

In all seriousness, I simply cannot wait to sing with the community once again! Leading services from home has been a great experience, but with everyone muted, I always feel like I'm singing by myself. There's nothing like the real thing, and I cannot wait to see AND hear everyone in person!

In the meantime: stay happy and healthy, and I'll see you online.

Samantha Marcus

10 Year Bat Mitzvah Anniversary

May 8, 2021

Ten years ago, on May 14, 2021, I stood on the bima at Congregation L'Dor V'Dor and became a Bat Mitzvah. I'm looking forward to celebrating this milestone anniversary on May 8, 2021!

A lot has changed since becoming a Bat Mitzvah. I recently graduated from Hunter College with a Bachelor's Degree in Childhood Education and English (with a minor in Hebrew!). I am currently completing a Master's Degree in Literacy Education while working as an associate teacher in a second grade classroom.

I've learned and grown so much since the last time I chanted my Haftarah and am excited to celebrate this milestone with lots of reflection and gratitude.

Thank you so much to Rabbi Yaffe and Cantor Shron for giving me the opportunity to celebrate the anniversary of my Bat Mitzvah with the synagogue community!

Daily Minyan Update

What does it mean to be a Shaliach Tzibbur for a synagogue service? Literally, it means to be a "representative of the congregation"...but in reality, it means so much more. When one leads the congregation in prayer, he or she is tasked with the responsibility to carry our communal prayers to God...clearly not a job to be taken lightly!

That's why we're so proud of the L'Dor V'Dor "Minyanaires" - regulars at our nightly 7:30 minyan - who have recently chosen to learn how to lead the service. Yasher Koach to Mindy Rosenfeld, Paul Sacker, and Irina Starr who have joined our distinguished roster of capable leaders - including Ken Kahaner, George Klein, Gary Mirkin, Sonny Shar, Saul Spindel, Richie Spivack, Chuck Wayne and Stan Wirthheim. Want to be part of the Shaliach Tzibbur club? Contact Rabbi Yaffe or Cantor Shron and we'll get you on the (virtual) bima in no time!

Recruitment and Outreach Update

By Paul M. Sacker

The Recruitment and Outreach Committee has been meeting regularly to develop ideas for reaching out to unaffiliated Jews, both in our neighborhood and online, and draw attention to our shul's many offerings. Recently we developed a beautiful flyer to advertise that our shul is alive and well seven days a week despite the restrictions of COVID. We have dropped these flyers in neighbor's mailboxes and posted them in local businesses. Below is a list of businesses that were willing to post our flyer, and we want to thank them publicly and encourage you to check them out for patronage.

Thanks to:

Then make copies!!! Send them by email to friends and family. Hand them to neighbors you think are receptive. Hang them in businesses you frequent where they agree to post (and let them know we will publicly thank them in the next Temple Talk.) If we all work together to get the word out, we may be able to grow our membership and become the go-to Conservative Congregation in Northern

Shabbat Across America

By Don Forman

On March 5, Esther and I participated in the Shabbat Across America program. It was both a very uplifting and enjoyable experience. The Shabbat service was quite moving and was followed by spending time with many Temple friends in a zoom room. A totally very excellent program. Next year we all can participate in person. Our thanks to our Rabbi and Cantor and Stan and Lois Wirtheim.

Our Zoom Second Seder

By Deanne Raffel

It has been a miserable year with COVID stabbing us all in the back. For many, Pesach was sort of left on the back burner; families were separated and that holiday feeling was absent. But, our Zoom Second Seder led by Rabbi Yaffe filled the gap. A small group of people, several whom I had never previously met, gathered around each of our holiday tables and our trusty computers for a warm, enlightening and enjoyable service.

No we did not use the ancient Maxwell House Haggadah, the Rabbi adapted portions of other Haggadahs that were more contemporary, interesting and spoke to the times in which we live. Each of us joyfully participated in the reading, discussing and singing in the age old story that is told and retold in the Haggadah.

Of course we drank the prescribed four glasses of wine and after finishing the second half of the Seder, we had a rollicking time singing all of the songs that had filled our childhoods on Pesach. I do not think one was left out!

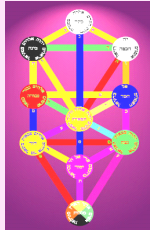

Time seemed to fly by. There was none of that talk of "when will it be over?" The only thing missing was the children. Hopefully "Next Year in Jerusalem" will include the children.

Hoping to sneak him out of the country to stand trial, agent Peter Malkin soon finds himself playing a deadly game of cat and mouse with the notorious war criminal.

Join us for a great discussion of “The Vanishing Half” by Brit Bennett

The Vignes twin sisters will always be identical. But after growing up together in a small, southern black community and running away at age sixteen, it's not just the shape of their daily lives that is different as adults, it's everything: their families, their communities, their racial identities. Many years later, one sister lives with her black daughter in the same southern town she once tried to escape. The other passes for white, and her white husband knows nothing of her past. Still, even separated by so many miles and just as many lies, the fates of the twins remain intertwined. What will happen to the next generation, when their own daughters' storylines intersect?

Weaving together multiple strands and generations of this family, from the Deep South to California, from the 1950s to the 1990s, Brit Bennett produces a story that is at once a riveting, emotional family story and a brilliant exploration of the American history of passing. Looking well beyond issues of race, The Vanishing Half considers the lasting influence of the past as it shapes a person's decisions, desires, and expectations, and explores some of the multiple reasons and realms in which people sometimes feel pulled to live as something other than their origins.

The Power of the Psalms

by Ellen Charlop

As we approach the holiday of Shavuot, we contemplate where we are in space and time. We've left Egypt, gone through the Exodus and find ourselves wandering through the desert trying to figure out who we are as a people, and where we're going. Our destination is the mountain, where we will receive the word of G-d, but we don't know that yet. Right now, we're working on ourselves, trying to perfect and prepare for the next phase. Though the desert can be a place that does not support growth, there is always the potential for things to blossom and thrive.

Perhaps that's what G-d sees in us-not who we are but rather, who we are capable of becoming.

Passover and Shavuot are sewn together by the Omer, which bridges together the months of Nisan, Iyar and Sivan, and also binds together the Exodus and the giving of the Torah.

The festival of Shavuot marks both the Birthday and the Yahrzeit of King David. Because Ruth was the matriarch of the Davidic dynasty, it is on this holiday that we read her story. The Book of Ruth is found in the Ketuvim, the third portion of the Hebrew Bible. One of the other books found in the Ketuvim is the Book of Psalms, thought to be authored mostly by King David.

In addition to being one of the most successful Kings, David was a warrior, a poet and a musician of the harp. Though he reigned for 40 years as a great ruler, he was not perfect. He spent much of his early years in hiding and on the run, and he defied two of the 10 Commandments when he committed adultery and murder.

Many of the Psalms were born out of his struggles.

The Psalms, also known in Hebrew as Tehilim, are recited as a source of protection and known for their healing powers. They are also recited as a means of solace and inspiration. The word Psalm comes from the Greek word Psalms which means songs sung to the harp, or Psallein, which means to pluck.

There are 150 Psalms in the book of Tehilim, many of which comprise the liturgy of today's synagogue service. The Ashrei, Psukei D'Zimrah, and Kabbalat Shabbat services are quoted straight from the Psalms.

"Out of the mouth of Babes"(8.3), "The Lord is my shepherd"(23.1), and "If I forget thee Jerusalem"(137.5) are all famous passages originating from Psalms.

The Psalms are divided into 30 days of each month. If you recite the Psalms assigned to each day, by the end of the month you will have recited all 150. This is very powerful.

Reciting the Psalms creates a give and take between man and G-d. The passion and sentiments we hear are something we all share and seek to express at one time or another. In many places there are prayer groups reciting Psalms for those who are ill. Reciting the Psalms can be universally transformative. Reciting the Psalms provide a powerful source of comfort and inspiration.

The language of the Psalms consists of both poetry and prose. The difference is that poetry is circular. It moves back on itself and is a beautiful form of written expression. Prose always moves forward in a linear fashion and tells you what happens consecutively over time.

Psalm 114 is a beautiful example of a Psalm that is prosaic and poetic at the same time. It is prosaic in that it articulates the progression of three events as they happened chronologically in history. Within the Psalm are the following words:

When Israel went forth from Egypt...
The sea saw something and fled...
The mountains skipped like rams, the hills like sheep.

The prose of this Psalm turns into poetry. On the surface we read about three chronological events:

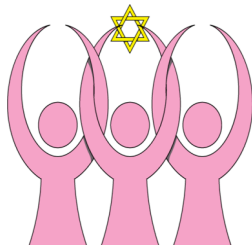

The Exodus from Egypt
The Splitting of the Sea of Reeds
The Trembling of the Mountains
(During the Revelation at Mount Sinai)

Poetically, this Psalm describes the Exodus from Egypt, the Splitting of the Sea and the giving of the Torah as One event! For G-d, who transcends time and space, these events are seen as a mere moment in Time. To G-d it doesn't matter that 40 days or 40 years or 400 years went by. The Gift of Freedom, the Manifestation of G-d's Presence and the Gift of Law, all bend back on each other. All are important, all are sacred, and all are connected.

Poetry gives impression rather than sequence. This beautiful Psalm does just that by weaving together these 3 major happenings into one awesome event!

As we celebrate Shavuot, may the Poetry and Prose of Psalm 114 help us to understand the important connection between Passover and Shavuot and between Freedom and Receiving of the Torah.

Chag Sameach!

Congregation L'Dor V'Dor Sisterhood Foster Child Program

May 2021

Dear Friends:

Once again, the Sisterhood of Congregation L'Dor V'Dor, is asking for your help in supporting The Alyce Drabkin Sisterhood Foster Child Program.

The Sisterhood Foster Child Program benefits the children at Neve Hanna Children's Home in Kiryat Gat, Israel. The children of Neve Hanna come from dysfunctional environments. Your donations are used for the therapeutic programs and projects, that strive to meet all the physical, emotional, spiritual and educational needs of the children. Your continuous support will play a significant role in the future and well being of the boys and girls at Neve Hanna.

This year, due to the COVID19 virus pandemic, the children living at Neve Hanna have been locked down and therefore, American Friends has supported the extra programming such as home schooling that has been needed to keep the children safe and well. Our new campaign, Buy a Book, Build a Library will help raise funds to buy books for the new library being built at Neve Hanna Children's Home. The Neve Hanna library will serve as an educational project. There will be a professional Librarian to supervise and educate the children and offer on the job training for our teens. This will give the teens the education, experience and job skills to pursue a career in Library Science.

The Foster Child Program also gives a scholarship to a deserving child for the Samuel Field Y Summer Day Camp Program.

We look forward to receiving your donations and graciously thank you for your continuous support of The Alyce Drabkin Sisterhood Foster Child Program.

Sincerely,

Janet Tobin
